Soft Coal Operators Expect
United Mine Workers
Head To Call Strike

MAJOR 'BREAK' IN COAL BATTLE DUE

By PHILLIP J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Soft coal operators today expect a strike order from John L. Lewis and possibly the long-awaited resignation of Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., as neutral trustee of the United Mine Workers welfare fund.

Industry representatives feel that a major "break" is due in the two and one-half month battle between Lewis and bituminous mine owners over a new contract to replace the coal wage agreement which expired last June 30.

The United Mine Workers president returns to Washington today, reportedly for a meeting of the welfare fund trustees, after a 500-mile round trip to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he spent three hours talking to Northern operators.

Lewis' Attitude
In the first negotiating session which he has attended in over two months, Lewis is understood to have:

1. Asked the Northern producers whether they will make the welfare payments due next Tuesday on August production and received a non-committal answer.
2. Blasted Southern producers who have "defaulted" their 20-cents-a-ton royalty payments to the welfare fund for July.
3. Enlarged on the demands of the miners for a seven-hour day without any loss in pay in a new contract in place of the present eight-hour day.
4. Insisted that the Northern operators meet again with the UMW on Sept. 21, the day after the August welfare payments are due, instead of postponing the resumption of negotiations until after the Sept. 25 steel strike.

He listed the following numbers: 815-4, Tom West's residence; 9032-B, West store; 9032-A, garage; 425-M and 8114-12 if no response at the other numbers.

The new numbers should be posted near the telephone.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Laszlo Rajk, former Foreign Minister of Communist Hungary, pleaded guilty to treason charges today but claimed he was "blackmailed" into aiding a so-called American plot to overthrow the Hungarian government.

The one-time cabinet officer, answering the prosecutor's sharp questions like an obedient child, laid bare his part in an alleged conspiracy which the Hungarian government charges was engineered by United States officials in behalf of Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

Rajk, whose guilty plea made him liable to a death sentence or life imprisonment, said that shortly after he returned to Hungary at the end of the war he was visited by Lt. Col. George Kovacs whom he described as a member of the U. S. Military Mission to Budapest.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Selden Chapin, former U. S. Minister to Hungary, today categorically denied charges that he had conspired against the Hungarian Communist regime with Laszlo Rajk, former Budapest foreign minister.

Rajk, on trial in Budapest for treason charges, told the court that he had a "secret connection" with Chapin in 1947. Rajk, in pleading guilty, claimed he was "blackmailed" into aiding an American plot to overthrow the Hungarian government.

Chapin declared that he had never had any discussions with Rajk when the latter was interior minister and saw him as foreign minister only to protest some violation of American rights. On these occasions, Chapin said he found him "severe, disagreeable and uncooperative."

Leave Azores In Single-Engine Plane On Flight To New York

HORTA, Azores, Sept. 14.—(INS)—Two Italian airmen took off in their tiny American monoplane today for the United States, some 2,000 miles across the Atlantic Ocean.

If the airmen successfully reach New York they intend to barnstorm North and South America and try to raise three million dollars to finance an Italian boy's town, patterned after the Nebraska institution.

Their flight plan calls for them to arrive in New York shortly after midnight.

The pilots, John Brondello and Camillo Barozello, took off from Lisbon last Monday, hoping to make the first west-east non-stop transatlantic flight in a single-engine plane. They ran into trouble, however, and were forced to land in the Azores, only one-third of the total distance.

Today, with their Beechcraft plane the Santa Susanna in good condition, they set off again for New York.

They carried enough gasoline for 29 hours of flying time, and said confidently that they expected to be in New York within 20 hours.

The two charity-minded airmen took off from Horta airport at 10:13 A. M. (4:13 A. M. EDT).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Navy Secretary Matthews moved today to halt further Navy-Air Force feuding by requesting all Naval officers to submit controversial views to him before making them public.

Matthews' action came shortly after Rear Adm. Ellis M. Zacharias, retired Naval Intelligence Chief, came to the support of Capt. John G. Crommelin, out-spoken critic of the Army and Air Force who was removed from his Navy staff post.

The Air Force previously had declared its policy to be that of "no comment."

East-West Romance

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 16.—(INS)—A shattered east-west romance on the University of California campus ended in death today for a rich Iranian student.

Freydoon Sanati, 24, hanged himself with the cord of his bathrobe when a girl for whom he had prepared an exotic Persian feast failed to appear at his apartment.

Instead sent a note saying she considered him "only as a friend."

Berkeley police said there was also a letter in the apartment from Sanati's father, a wealthy Iranian political figure in Teheran, opposing the romance, saying "women are all alike" and threatening to disinherit the youth unless he returned immediately to Iran.

South Africa Wins
Partial Victory On
Prices For Gold

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—South Africa appears today to have won a partial but far from complete victory in her attempt to increase worldwide gold prices.

The International Monetary Fund is expected to vote approval of a study into the possibility of permitting a member nation to sell half of its newly-mined gold output at any price it can obtain.

The matter came up for a vote at a closed-door meeting of the Fund's board of directors and officials predicted that with U. S. backing the move would be approved.

This is the outstanding issue as the Fund and world bank prepare to wind-up their four-day annual meeting which has brought to gether financial experts from 48 nations.

The question of devaluation of some European currencies as recommended in a Fund report to help end the dollar shortage has taken a backseat as the U. S. and South Africa battled the gold issue.

Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France called upon Moscow to get down to brass tacks on the Austrian matter in a joint communique issued following a conference of nearly four hours.

Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman "also exchanged views on the current developments in Yugoslavia and the Balkans."

Predicts Senate
Confirmation Of

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., today predicted an overwhelming Senate confirmation of former Sen. Sherman Minton of Indiana as an Associate Supreme Court Justice.

Party lieutenants on both sides expected to see Circuit Court Judge approved, but admitted that there was an obvious "lack of enthusiasm" among Conservative Democrats and Republicans. Minton will succeed Justice Wiley Rutledge who died last Saturday night.

Sen. Jenner (R) Ind., who was described by fellow Senators as a possible source of objection, declined to comment on the nomination of Minton because he is a member of the judiciary committee considering his appointment. Sen. Capehart (R) Ind., made it clear he approved.

Truck Drivers
In Erie District
Being Arrested

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 16.—(INS)—More than 160 truck drivers have been fined $25 to $50 each in the last 60 hours for overloads on three highways in the Erie area.

Lt. James F. Maroney of the Pennsylvania state police said hundreds of additional trucks are parked in New York and Ohio, awaiting lifting of the road blocks, and others are parked in Pennsylvania.

Justice of the Peace S. L. Ueber of Harborcreek, who said he had fined 120 truckers in the last 24 hours, added:

"I'm getting tired."
But there seemed to be no rest in sight for Ueber, the state police or the truckers.

Lieutenant Maroney said there is no indication of when the road block will cease and, in fact, a new weighing detail was assigned to West Springfield today.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16.—CIO-United Steelworkers President Philip Murray today "suggested" to some 60 steel and iron ore companies that they accept the fact-finding board's recommendations so times and places can be set for resumption of collective bargaining.

Murray made the requests in telegrams to all but one of the firms which would be involved in a strike at 12:01 a. m. Sept. 25 if the current deadlock over pensions is not broken by then.

Other sources said, however, that the mediation chief will invite management and union officials to government-sponsored conferences aimed at breaking the present deadlock over negotiations.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Former Chairman Dimitri Manuilsky of the defunct Comintern, fired the opening gun today in an apparently new Soviet offensive against the atom bomb and U. S. atomic policy.

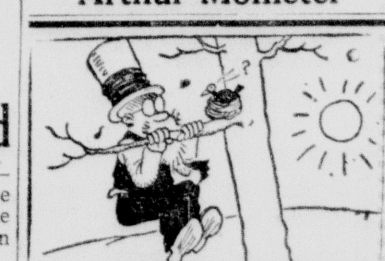

Manuilsky said in the U. N. Security Council that the United States delegation at Lake Success talks a different tune from that of leading American officials and publications. meeting this weekend—probably next Saturday—at which the Orient would be the top problem up for discussion.

The "Big Three" statesmen conferred in a spirit of amity on the heels of a U.S. promise to France and all other Marshall Plan nations that they would get the same trade dollar benefits as Britain. French Finance Minister Perche also announced that France and other Western European countries plan to remove a number of import restrictions in a major try at freeing trade among the Marshall Plan powers.

Ask Moscow Reply

In urging Russia to expedite an Austrian treaty, the "Big Three" statesmen asked that Moscow reply immediately to a U.S. proposal that the treaty-writing deputies resume their efforts in New York September 22.

The communists said that the western ministers had coordinated their plans for writing "a satisfactory treaty" at an early date.

They called upon the Soviet government to carry out the obligations they assumed at Moscow in 1943 regarding Austria and subsequently amplified at the "Big Four" Council of Foreign Ministers meeting in Paris this year.

Three weeks before their escape, the GI and the other prisoners staged a five-day hunger strike, after which they were given more food and toothbrushes. But the Russians told them:

"You are prisoners and we will keep you as long as we want."

Sienkiewicz gave this information after he was committed to a U. S. Army hospital.

U. S. officials had learned of the plight several weeks ago when Christopher Rangaves, another GI, returned to the American sector from Soviet imprisonment.

Believe Russian Troops Withdrawn From Hungary

BUDAPEST, Sept. 16.—(INS)—

Balkan informants believe that Soviet troops which were concentrated in Hungary as a warning to Marshal Tito, have now been withdrawn.

This opinion is supported by a motor drive along what is very likely Europe's most dangerous international highway—the double-lane route between Belgrade, Tito's Yugoslavian stronghold, and Budapest, capital of the pro-Soviet Hungarian government.

Should Russia decide to invade Yugoslavia to settle its bitter dispute with Tito, the red army's tanks and trucks would doubtless rumble across this flat road which points at Belgrade like a concrete arrow.

Traffic Tied Up

City police were notified of the crash at 7 o'clock and Officers George Sigler and Domenick Leone were dispatched to the scene. Later they were joined by H. L. Richards and Lieut. Thomas Jones, as traffic was tied up by the wreckage.

Atwater stated that he was forced into the rear end of the trailer by another car, traveling in the same direction. Atwater's car was virtually demolished, the car swinging around and crashing into the front of the tractor-trailer, after striking it on the left rear end. The tractor was knocked up over the curb a distance of three feet by the impact of the collision. Atwater suffered a laceration of the chin and was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Raymond Webber, of 602 W. North street, city policeman, was one of the first to reach the scene of the collision, having just turned onto West Washington street from Robinson street, a block away from the scene. He notified the department and summoned aid.

Funeral arrangements are to be announced in Saturday's News.

First Fall Meeting Of Oak Street P.T.A.

New Officers In Charge Of Year's
First Meeting; Miss Hovis
Wins Banner

Oak street P. T. A. held its first meeting of 1949-50 year at the Oak street school, Tuesday evening, with more than 115 present.

Opening the meeting with the National Anthem, Mrs. Susko, new president, conducted the meeting. Each teacher's name was called and asked to come forward to acquaint the old and new members with the teachers and principal.

New officers and all the committee chairmen and members were introduced. A vote of thanks was extended to the past president, Mrs. Clark Shumate, and the committee members of the past year, for the improvements in the school gained through their efforts.

Mrs. Susko stated, "It is the desire of the officers of this year to continue the work for more improvements, and when possible to obtain a new building for the pupils and teachers." She added, "It will be necessary for the group to have the support of all parents."

Program committee announced the theme of the year which will be "This Thing Called Education." This includes a 4-point plan of the National Congress of P. T. A.

Executive committee meeting is to be held Thursday evening, September 22, at the home of Mrs. James McKee of 208 N. Crawford avenue.

Business was concluded with a room representation roll call taken. First and second grades in the portable school, taught by Miss Betty Hovis, received the banner and monthly treat.

Mrs. Sally McKee was guest speaker of the evening. She showed models illustrating the customs of Egypt, and concluded by showing pictures and giving an interesting talk on the education in Egypt.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by Mrs. Gerald Book, assisted by the members of the hospitality group.

SOVIET STARTS NEW OFFENSIVE ON ATOM BOMB

war hysteria in the United States continues. American plans for an atomic war against Russia have already been mapped.

Manulsky cited President Truman as saying last April that he would not hesitate to use the atom bomb if necessary in the same way as he ordered the attack on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Manulsky cited recent statements on U. S. intention to keep a tight hold on its atom bomb "know how" from leaders like General Omar Bradley, Secretary of Interior Julius A. Krug and Senator Hickenlooper.

Manulsky demanded resumption of atomic control discussions in the U. N. atomic energy commission. The report prepared for the assembly proposes suspension of such discussions until the big six sponsoring powers have reached a basis for agreement.

Semen K. Tsarapkin of Russia supported Manulsky with practically the same arguments.

SENDS TELEGRAMS SUGGESTING NEW DATE FOR MEETING

offices in Pittsburgh said, "there's nothing doing here this morning. The next move is up to the union."

Less than two city blocks away at CIO United Steelworkers' headquarters, a union representative commented only, "We'll see, we'll see."

Strike Appears Certain

Meanwhile, time was growing short with a national steel strike only nine days off.

Union leaders were reminded in telegrams from district directors after the exchange that a strike at 12:05 a. m. Sept. 25 "now appears definitely certain." There was no move by either union or the major producers to schedule new bargaining talks.

To be prepared for any last-minute developments, CIO-USW President Philip Murray today called the union's 170-man international policy committee into session in Pittsburgh next Wednesday.

The policy group has the authority to call a strike or accept terms from any company. In all probability, the committee will remain in Pittsburgh until the strike deadline at 12:01 a. m. Sept. 25, unless agreement is reached previously.

At the same time, the critical situation threatened to spread to the aluminum and container industries.

It was disclosed that the United Steelworkers will ask the Aluminum Company of America to begin negotiations next week on the basis of the Presidential Fact-Finding Board report rejected by most of the steel industry. Also to be asked to meet with union bargainers is the American Can Company.

In Washington, President Truman told his press conference that he was under the impression that both union and management have accepted a three-man board's findings as a basis for discussion. The President appeared hopeful a strike will be averted.

Only J. & L. Accepts

But union spokesmen said that only the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation has accepted the key recommendation of the board that the companies pay 10 cents an hour as the full cost of a welfare and pension program.

In the latest exchange of charges, union and CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless accused each other of being responsible for any steel strike which might now develop.

The exchange came in a series of telegrams in which Murray charged the steel industry of having a "public be damned attitude" and Fairless accused Murray of being "dictatorial."

Murray once again posted acceptance of the company-financed social insurance plan as the price of renewed negotiations. And Fairless once again insisted that the board's recommendation of the plan was not binding on either side.

STRIKE ORDER FROM LEWIS IS NOW EXPECTED

deadline as desired by the operators.

Industry circles expect Lewis to issue a strike call for Monday against Southern operators who have withheld payments to the financially shaky welfare fund.

Whether the "North" also will be affected by a work stoppage depends on payment or non-payment of the welfare fund royalty due next Tuesday.

Thus far Northern operators have continued their payments but they told Lewis yesterday it is a matter for the individual companies to decide whether August contributions will be made. Lewis abandoned his traditional "no contract, no work" policy last June 30 and directed the miners to work a three-day week until a new contract was signed in order to keep money flowing into the welfare fund.

Many Southern producers have reneged on the payment on the ground that the expiration of the old contract relieved them of the obligation to contribute to the welfare program.

Lewis appealed unsuccessfully to James D. Francis, of the Island Creek Coal Co., and a key figure in the Southern Coal Producers Association, to "remit" the defaulted contributions. He made the same futile request of the Cleveland Trust Co., which holds a substantial stock interest in Island Creek.

A strike now appears to be the union leader's only weapon to enforce contributions to the welfare fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Thompson To Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Thompson, 309 Edison avenue, well-known residents of New Castle, will observe their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, September 17.

Earl R. Thompson and the former Edith Lady, were united in marriage in 1899 at Martin's Ferry, O. The couple came to New Castle to make their home in 1910, and spent most of the last forty years in this city.

A past president of the Wimdousis, Mrs. Thompson is also a life member of that organization. A member of the First Methodist church, she has been active in many clubs and organizations concerning church work. Upon the illness of her husband, she was unable to participate in future activities. During the first World War, Mrs. Thompson worked at the canteen located at that time in Mahoningtown.

At the age of 22, Mr. Thompson became a member of the Blue Lodge, Masonic order, and is now a life member of the Lodge of Craft, 433. He has also been active in the Consistory.

A retired steel mill executive, Mr. Thompson at one time was assistant manager of the Shenango works. Later he was manager at three different mills, the former New Castle mill, the Laughlin works at Martins Ferry, and the Pittsburgh works at New Kensington, Pa. After 40 years of active service, he retired in 1944.

The couple have one son, Lawrence L. Thompson, who resides at Sherman Oaks, Calif. They are the grandparents of Robert Thompson, who resides with his parents in California, and Mrs. Frederick Winston of Sioux City, Iowa.

To celebrate the approaching milestone, 22 neighbors of the couple gathered at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson of Edison avenue on a recent evening. The event was a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. Large bowls of flowers decorated the rooms. A delicious lunch was served, with a gold and white color theme predominating. A lovely gift was presented to the happy pair.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left today to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reed of Elm street, Martins Ferry, O., where they will relive the "old days" and their golden anniversary.

HONOR CO-WORKERS AT DINNER PARTY

Mesdames Prudence Harris, Signe Nelson, and Shirley Houck were honored Thursday evening by co-workers of the yard goods department of the New Castle Store. The group motored to an inn in New Wilmington to honor the girls' birthdays by enjoying a delightful dinner.

Upon their return to New Castle, the group spent the remainder of the evening at the home of Mrs. Harris, who proved to be a charming hostess. Business was conducted by Mrs. Annie Davies. The name selected for the club is "P. G. Club". A report was given by the secretary, Mrs. Shirley Houck.

Games were the diversions of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Annie Davies, Mrs. Ada Riley, Miss Edna Armour, and Miss Minnie Gomulak. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Shirley Houck, Mrs. Mary Householder, and Mrs. Lamello.

Mrs. Gomulak was in charge of the entertainment committee. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Gerald Book of Hillcrest avenue, with the date being announced later.

MISS AUDRIE CROMIE WEDS ROBERT RAMSEY

Soft, rich tones of autumn flowers and greenery and the beauty of a candlelight service, provided the setting for the marriage of Miss Audrie Roberta Cromie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Cromie, 304 Galbreath avenue, to Robert Reeves Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Ramsey, 220 Fairfield avenue.

The impressive ceremony was solemnized Thursday evening, September 15, at 7:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church with Dr. R. F. Galbreath, pastor of the church, hearing the exchange of vows.

The bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a square neck with an Elizabethan collar trimmed with Chantilly lace. Panels of the same type of lace adorned the front and back of the gown, and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. A fingertip illusion veil completed the costume. The bride carried the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue and carried a lucky sixpence. Her flowers were white roses and white baby mums topped with a white Bible, showered with streamers.

Matron of honor, Mrs. George Conway, Jr., was lovely in a gown of gold brocade enhanced with a gold velvet trim and matching headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of bronze baby mums.

Bridesmaids Miss Dorothy Magill and Miss Agnes Cartwright, were attractive in bronze brocade gowns trimmed with dark brown velvet and matching head-pieces. Their flowers were cascade bouquets of gold baby mums.

Flower girl, little Karen Lane Conway, was charming in a yellow taffeta gown with matching head-piece and yellow rose corsage. Garth Edmundson, church organist, accompanied Miss Lena Mae McConnell as she sang "Bless This House," "I Love Thee" and "Through The Years."

A wedding reception was held at the church for 150 guests, following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey departed for a wedding trip to New York City and the New England states by motor. Upon their return they will reside at 307 Edgewood avenue, this city.

Mrs. Ramsey is a graduate of New Castle high school and New Castle Business College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Meadville high school and Allegheny college and is at present attending the University of Pittsburgh.

MORE SPARE PARTS

Surgical science has now succeeded in transferring lengths of vein from one part of the human body to bridge gaps between arteries in another part. There had been experiments with injecting lengths of arteries with indifferent success.

Beneficiaries will be accident cases where arteries are damaged and older persons afflicted with degenerative diseases of the bloodstream. The hope is held out that it will aid in overcoming blood clots. Timely insertion may make an amputation unnecessary.

The repaired human body may eventually be a fearful and a wonderful thing. Skin and bone grafting are old stories. Spare parts for eyes are becoming available. Artificial limbs and wigs are so natural that it is difficult to detect them. The old claim has been made that medical science has made progress toward the invention of an artificial kidney that can be worn outside the body to serve the functions of the natural organ.

Why not spare parts for liver, heart, lungs and pancreas, too? The stomach can be eliminated and the patient go on living.

Finally, the human body may be so patched up that it will go clanking down the street less godlike than in its pristine youth but still the prolonged habitation of a living soul.

Methusalem had better be looking to his old age laurels.

PLEASE BE CAREFUL

J. K. McKie, a Union Pacific Railroad engineer, relates an experience all too common to the men who operate trains. Involved was a careless, speeding motorist, was piloting. He tells of the incident in a letter to the Salina, Kans., Journal.

"Stranger, I don't know who you are or where you live," he says, "but don't you know you took a chance on your life and many others? You passed the red signals at the railroad crossing 40 or 45 miles an hour. I was making 60."

"You did not stop for U. S. 40. You had a big, red tandem trailer with a large caterpillar on it. You certainly did not care much for yourself or the load you had, or for the fireman or myself, or the others on the passenger train which I was handling."

"If we had been just one second earlier or you one second later, the story would have been told. It would have been just too bad."

"I don't think you will forget this soon. I did not like my place in the cab of that engine and I certainly would have liked to have been in your place. It was uncalled for. This crossing has good signals and lights."

"The railroads have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for these signals. Why don't drivers stop for them? Your time is worth nothing if you kill yourself and your friends. Please be careful."

Thus endeth today's sermon to motorists.

BALKAN SHENANIGANS

Suppose that Defense Secretary Johnson should travel down to Montevideo for a Uruguayan patriotic holiday. Suppose he should make a speech, across the River Plate from Buenos Aires. Suppose he should say:

President Peron of Argentina is a traitor to democratic ideals and a menace to hemispheric solidarity. Argentines ought to overthrow his government. As for the people of Uruguay, the United States will aid them if they should get into any trouble.

Nothing of the kind has happened, nor is it likely to happen in this part of the world. But these suppositions throw light on the address made at Sofia few days ago by Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, Soviet minister of defense, when Bulgaria celebrated the fifth anniversary of the "liberation."

Marshal Bulganin declared that Tito of Yugoslavia is a "Judas" in the eyes of real communists and that Yugoslavia ought to get rid of him. Then he added that Bulgaria can look to Russia for help "in any trial you may face in the future."

The hypothetical speech outlined above would have been interpreted to mean that Washington had decided to end Peronism and that Uruguay had been encouraged to demand that Argentina at once settle any questions between the two countries—and on Uruguay's terms. Since there are old scores between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, the actual Bulganin address could easily be an effort to push Sofia into insisting on concessions from Belgrade. The Bulgarian government may take it as an invitation to start something now.

If so, the war of nerves between the Soviet and Tito's regime may shortly look even more serious than at present. The pattern of bluster may become a pattern of action. It is interesting that Poland has abrogated the "unbreakable" Polish-Yugoslav treaty of mutual assistance, for this step could be a part of such a pattern. Marshal Tito apparently does not expect Russia to use force, but force is now being openly threatened.

President Truman makes light of the charge that we are spending and taxing until we are approaching the totalitarian state. Maybe he can't see the woods for the trees.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The most brazen attempt yet made by Czechoslovak Communists to intimidate the Catholic clergy is described in dispatches revealing their plans to desecrate the confessional booth as part of their campaign to enslave the church.

Catholic authorities in Prague received from a communist in Moravia full details of a secret Communist meeting during which the plot was elaborated.

It calls for Catholics who have embraced Communism to go to confession in the normal way, admit that they are Communists and have defied the church and then challenge the priest to carry out the excommunication decree handed down by Pope Pius XII.

Threaten Punishment
Czechoslovak authorities already have threatened dire punishment for any member of the clergy proceeding against Catholic Communists in accordance with the decree.

The assumption is that the stooge priests who abuse the confessional at the bidding of their Communist masters will promptly inform upon any priest carrying out the excommunication.

Similarly, it is to be expected that any priest who refrains from such action will be publicly denounced either as a secret sympathizer or as one who has failed in his ecclesiastical duties.

Flicker of Mellowness
There are several major factors, however, which throw a flicker of mellowness on what the Vatican itself has described as a "very grim" picture in Czechoslovakia. One is the fact that excommunication is such a major measure affecting highest church policy, with the result that a parish priest in all probabilities might feel that such "confessions" could be handed over to the local bishop for adjudication.

Another is that the excommunication as announced by the holy see is instantaneous and automatic. There is no need for any such "confession." Anyone violating papal edicts and attending church at the same time is simply practicing hypocrisy, answerable to his own conscience.

Third is the fact that excommunication decree specified that priests and bishops were to act in cases where Catholic Communists had decided to renounce their political deviation and return to the church. It was made clear that in any such event, each case was to be decided upon its own merits.

Priests and bishops were to determine independently whether the Catholic in question embraced Communist principles enthusiastically or under duress.

In each case they were to determine the amount and the weight of pressure brought to bear.

Numerous Exceptions
And there were numerous exceptions that obviously were necessary because of the sweeping nature of the decree, the most powerful instance of direct action by the Vatican in more than three hundred years of its history.

Four French Cardinals, in a letter made public to the Paris press yesterday, pointed out that the decree applies not only to persons engaged in the publication and distribution of Communist literature and newspapers, but also to those who read them. It immediately became apparent in the case of Czechoslovakia that exceptions were essential.

To begin with, all newspapers in Czechoslovakia are forced to follow the Communist line. If Czech Catholics ceased to read newspapers entirely, they would be cut off from pro-Catholic as well as anti-Catholic sources of information.

In addition, the church recognized that in many professions and even in industry, persons must keep abreast of the news even if this involves possible contamination by propaganda appearing in the adjoining column.

Finally, and severe as the situation in Czechoslovakia may be, the church has faced many such crises in the past, some of them even more formidable. If this one is to resolve itself into a duel between priests and atheists in a confessional booth, the eventual odds seem to lie in favor of a victory for the faith.

SPILLS

When grate fires kept the room aglow
Against December's biting chill,
My father, often bending low,
Within the flame would light a spill.

"Now what's a spill?" the children ask.
"A roll of paper," I reply.
"And years ago it was my task
The mantel holder to supply."

"His pipe or reading lamp to light,
He'd take that little paper roll
And hold it so it would ignite
When held against a burning coal."

Since matches were expensive
Then, and mother watched the household bills,
On mantel shelves for smoking men
Was always kept a jar of spills.

My father couldn't live to see
The pocket lighters of today,
He never dreamed the day would be
When matches would be given away.

He took for granted boyhood's task
Would always be that jar to fill,
And never thought my son would ask
This foolish question: "What's a spill?"

Cites Abuse Of Influence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Now that the 5 percent investigation has subsided, the black headlines called forth by this momentary sensation are receding into obscurity. If anyone in Congress had the courage to go into it, there is a far more obvious example of the use—and abuse—of official influence right on the doorstep of Congress.

That is the growing custom of members of Congress making themselves nothing but special pleaders for special interests. This practice has gone so far that lawyer members even defend the right to take fees for services rendered. These fees are, of course, above and beyond the congressional salary of $12,500 a year plus a $2,500 tax-free expense allowance.

This situation was highlighted by an incident last spring that received too little attention. Rep. Earl Chudoff, Democrat of Pennsylvania, appeared in Federal district court representing a client charged with sending obscene literature through the mail. The judge was James P. McGranery, former congressman from Pennsylvania and former assistant to the attorney general.

Others Had Appeared
Judge McGranery told Chudoff he would be violating the law in appearing in court. Chudoff replied that other members of Congress had appeared in Federal court under similar circumstances.

"You are right," the judge was quoted by the Associated Press as replying, "and I don't care to mention names, but that's no reason why I should allow you to do the same."

One of the names which the judge may well have had in mind was that of another Pennsylvania congressman, Francis E. Walter, Democrat, now serving his ninth term in Congress from the twelfth district. In a sharply contested campaign last fall Walter's Republican opponent, Roy James, brought out that the congressman had represented stockholders in a suit against the Pennrod corporation and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

That suit was, indirectly, the outgrowth of a congressional investigation into railroad holding companies. Some months ago Federal Judge George A. Welsh awarded Walter a fee of $170,000 in the Pennrod case, a reduction from $175,000.

In the campaign last fall Walter said in reply to James that as one of the counsel for the Pennrod stockholders he had succeeded in recovering $15,000,000 from the Pennsylvania Railroad. Congressman Walter is also reported to have acted for a group of slate companies in his district when they were charged with violating the anti-trust law. An executive of one of the leading companies tells me it is his impression that Walter "helped them out" without charging a fee.

Evasive Double Talk
The question of whether it is illegal for a member of Congress to defend persons charged with violating the federal law or to serve as trustee in bankruptcy for a fee was put up not long ago to the department of justice. The reply that came back, signed by Peyton Ford, assistant to the attorney general, was full of evasive double talk. But after citing various laws covering the matter, Ford in a memorandum said:

"In the absence of a judicial determination of the question it is not possible to deny that a violation could result."
Walter is now on a congressional junket in Europe. I cabled him asking for his comment and he replied saying that, when he returned, he would be happy to discuss the matter.

All I know is that $40,000,000 is a lot of pick-and-shovel money to be in the hands of a character who just laid down his hammer-and-sickle.

If it's mining tools he wants, the government could have gotten them from our coal producers . . . John Lewis has it fixed so that they've got mining tools they've hardly used yet.

But the government finds it easier to give away money which has been only slightly used by the taxpayers.

In Chicago they're giving a fellow a sanity test because he rooked trusting women of $2,000,000 but in Washington anybody with a faded red pennant can pick up $40,000,000 from a trusting treasury without even taking a saliva test.

Incidentally, it's too bad the Army and Navy are having trouble over their merger but it's their first look at Elliott!

THE BIRTH OF A NATION

Tomorrow will be the seventeenth of September. Does that date mean anything to you? Ask the question of anyone you know and not one in a thousand will give you an answer.

Although it marks one of the greatest single events in American history, July Fourth is celebrated enthusiastically, if sometimes recklessly, as America's birthday. It is fitting that the day be observed as a great patriotic occasion, for the Declaration of Independence was indeed a momentous milestone in our forward march, yet it signifies not the birth of a nation, but the birth of an idea.

The Declaration sets forth that "These United Colonies are and of a right ought to be Free and Independent States" but the emphasis was on the "ought to be"—the rest was only wishful thinking. The assertion that they were free did not make them so; long years were to elapse before that goal could be reached—years of war, devastation and hardship, with a tremendous loss of life and treasure.

Remarkable Outcome
It borders on the miraculous that the struggle to make good the boast of independence could have been successful, for the revolutionaries, with meager resources and poor equipment, faced not only the might of the British army and its Hessian mercenaries, but the antagonism of many of their fellow-colonists, who remained staunch Tories and opposed the war from beginning to end.

In the work he dealt with almost every subject under and over the sun. He wrote about the treaty of Paris, more than eight years after the opening guns at Lexington and Concord, freedom had been won, but the question now was what to do with it. The

The Nature Of Junkets

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—LEAST SAID, SOONEST MENDED. No quarrel ever arose quicker than the one between Senator Elmer Thomas and Defense Secretary Louis Johnson over government-paid trips for junketing congressmen. This is a touchy subject, since it embarrasses both law-makers and Cabinet members, all of whom like to get around and see the world. A sort of gentleman's agreement has always protected this special privilege from undue publicity. Once a trip has been taken, the facts are on record. But projected trips sometimes appear to be in the hush-hush category. Committee chairmen and clerks can be very vague on these matters.

THE YEARS BETWEEN. But historically speaking, congressmen have always indulged their travel yen in the odd-numbered years, like 1949, when no regular elections are scheduled. Air travel, particularly at government expense, did not become popular until 1947, the first odd-numbered post-war year. Until then committee chairmen and high-ranking members got most of the free rides. But the 80th Congress discovered, and the 81st Congress continued, a way to treat obscure members to the broadening benefits of foreign travel. Both Congresses ordained "investigations" in hitherto unheard-of frequency and numbers.

GOING MY WAY? In 1947 there were 24 different investigations which required the overseas travel of 26 senators and 99 representatives for a total of 407 working days. These figures do not include trips which the law-givers made with the State Department to Rio and Geneva, nor the journeys that were made to attend church, fraternal, trade, labor and other non-congressional gatherings. Some of the Capitol Hill pilgrims dashed off on numerous side-trips and served on more than one investigation. The expense accounting became so intricate that it even baffled a Library of Congress researcher who undertook a comprehensive study of the matter. Figures in this column are taken from that unpublished source.

MEN OF PARTS. Two representatives, both Republicans, managed to serve on as many as three different investigation missions. They were Hugh Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania and Leonard Hall of New York. These most-traveled law-makers went to Europe, the Mediterranean and the Near East to investigate American flagline carriers. They whipped up to Alaska to look into the aviation and communications problem, and then circled the globe in the interests of civil aviation. No others, apparently, were able to subdivide their talents into three parts, but 10 members did double duty by conducting two investigations.

FELLOW TRAVELERS. Since the GOP organized the 80th Congress, it is natural enough that Republicans got most of the free trips. Of the 99 traveling representatives, 67 were Republicans, but the interesting fact is the company they chose. Only a few Fair Dealers, such as Cannon of Missouri and Monroney of Oklahoma, went on these world pilgrimages. But there were 17 Southern Democrats, plus three more if you count Maryland and New Mexico as Southern States. Senators followed the same party pattern but not to the same extent. Barkley, Tydings, Green, McFarland and McGrath, all regarded as Administration Democrats, got trips. So did Ellender and Russell, Southern Democrats. But both groups were outnumbered by the GOP stalwarts—Senators Bridges, Brooks, Butler, Cain, Capehart, Cordell, Donnell, Dworshak, Ecton, Hickenlooper, Knowland, Lodge, Revercomb, Saltonstall, Smith, Thye, Watkins and Young.

YOUR ASSIGNMENT IS . . . Some of the investigations were fairly solid, but others were conveniently vague. For instance, the theoretical newspaper shortage took 3 representatives to Canada and 3 senators to Alaska. The 11-member Hester Committee studied the definite subject of the Marshall Plan, but a 3-member House group and a 10-member Senate group investigated the "general situation as background." In addition, there was another 5-member House group studying "trends and movements" of the international scene. Also a 13-member joint committee with a "flexible itinerary" was investigating the Voice of America.

WHAT DID YOU LEARN? There is no sure way to measure the value of these trips, but a rough estimate can be made by the positive, negative and inconclusive action later taken on the various subjects. For instance, the 80th Congress took positive action on the Marshall Plan, negative action on Alaskan statehood and inconclusive action on the trusteeship of Pacific Islands. Using this rough system, it appears that the investigations were 11 parts inconclusive, 9 parts positive and 4 parts negative.

WHAT'S NEXT TO INVESTIGATE? Although the 81st Congress has been in continuous session, between 50 to 60 members are now overseas. Oddly enough, 17 of these free travelers are listed as studying the subject of Federal expenditures at Federal expense.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"How long will it take before those new discoveries, atomic energy and jet propulsion, are going to be used for the practical commercial benefit of mankind rather than for war and destruction?"

That question was asked of Sumner T. Pike, one of the country's great experts on these subjects, and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Pike answered with a smile. "I hope it won't take as long as it did to develop jet propulsion from the origin of the idea, eighteen hundred years ago, to what it is today."

"When Hero of Alexandria invented 'Hero's Fountain' somewhere around 50 A.D., he had no idea how far it would progress."

"So I can't tell you exactly how long it will take to get from here to its practical commercial use. 'But we are working on it.'"

"Hero's Fountain," which is Greek mathematician and philosopher invented, was "a pneumatic apparatus, through which a jet of water is supported by condensed air."

A crude predecessor of our present jet propulsion but a predecessor, just the same.

Mr. Pike also mentioned the idea of "atomic energy" as not being anything new.

Well, it is not.

Away back around 97 B.C. there lived a man by the name of Carus Titus Lucretius, a Roman philosopher who liked to explore the Unknown.

True enough, some people say that he was not quite sane, because he finally committed suicide at a rather early age by taking a "love potion."

But he did write a remarkable set of books of six volumes, which he called "De Rerum Natura"—about the Nature of Things.

In the work he dealt with almost every subject under and over the sun. He wrote about the

Invaluable Experience Gained In Congressional
Battle In Pennsylvania

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The Republican party pocketed more than just a congressional seat and a so-called "rebuke" to President Truman's "Fair Deal" program in John P. Saylor's victory in the 26th district special election. The reaction of political leaders emphasizes that the GOP gained invaluable experience in returning to the old-fashioned "grass roots" type of campaign. The contest was recognized by both parties as a nearly perfect battleground for the first test of the Truman administration. Composed of Cambria, Armstrong and Indiana counties, the district is a cross-section of labor, industry and agriculture. Johnstown, the home of Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., the Democratic candidate, represented metropolitan industry, and the remainder of Cambria county the scattered soft coal industry. Armstrong and Indiana counties comprise both coal and agriculture. Organized labor imported its best political campaigners into the district in support of Mrs. Coffey, mother of the late Congressman Robert L. Coffey, Jr. The GOP dispatched its top men into the district, too, and the consensus of reaction is that the party, taking its 1948 campaign mistakes to heart, has proved it can match doorbell for doorbell in a grass roots fight.

The 1949 legislature never realized it, but it was abetting the early summer's rising unemployment rolls when it boosted unemployment benefits to a maximum of $25 a week. A spokesman for the state employment service points out that the top weekly payments indirectly contributed during the summer to the state's mounting jobless rolls. He explained that some workers who are eligible for the $25 a week payment found that it paid to remain on the jobless list rather than accept seasonal farm jobs. Farm wages and the maximum UC check were just about equal, he said.

The department of public assistance, under legislative fire for its multi-million dollar expense account, reports that in July it required 3,877 employees to handle 185,000 cases involving 355,000 persons. One of the vulnerable points in the department's administration has been touched by charges that more workers are employed than is necessary to handle the assistance job. The department's own figures show that during 1939, the peak relief year, 8,808 employees were able to handle claims involving 1,817,000 persons. County boards of assistance alone accounted for 3,256 employees during July, 1949. The peak county board staff numbered 7,820 in October, 1939. The low point in DPA grants appeared about V-J day, in August 1945, when approximately 200,000 persons were on the rolls. At that time, 2,794 employees administered all DPA offices. The state office at Harrisburg numbered 988 employees during the 1939 peak but the total was pared to 528 at the low point in 1945. During last July, the state office total stood at 621 employees.

With a multi-million dollar construction and improvement program outlined by the last two legislatures, the commonwealth looms as an important factor in the nation's economy. Shortly after the 1949 General Assembly recreated the $175,000,000 general state authority, to carry out a long-range building program in the state, the victory left not a united nation, but thirteen independent states, each jealous of its sovereignty and suspicious of its neighbors, and all fearful that any central government might infringe on their precious state's rights. During the war they had fought as brothers-in-arms against a common adversary, but now there was no bond uniting them except the sketchy and impotent Articles of Confederation, which amounted only to a gentleman's agreement. A Continental Congress had been convoked on two occasions, but it could act only in an advisory capacity, as it had no authority to enforce its resolutions.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

Localism Order of Day
Localism was the order of the day, and several states enacted restrictive legislation that rendered interstate commerce all but impossible. It was evident that where was the master mind that could find a common ground for agreement in the face of such a divergence of opinion on questions of religion, commercial interests, political procedure and mode of life? The problem seemed impossible of solution, but there were giants in those days—Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Franklin, Hamilton—men of vision, courage and determination, who knew that they must not fail. The Legislature of Virginia took the first step by inviting the several states to send delegates to a convention to be held at Annapolis, but as only five states accepted, nothing concrete was accomplished, except that the groundwork was laid for a later and more inclusive assembly. A second convention was held in Philadelphia the following year, with representatives from twelve states in attendance, Rhode Island alone abstaining. For four months the delegates labored at their task, striving for a meeting of minds and making many compromise for the sake of harmony and in the interest of the greatest number. At last their work was finished, and on September 17th, 1787, just one hundred sixty-two years ago, the Constitution was adopted and the United States of America came into being, a new star in the galaxy of nations.

So this is one time when we should disregard the admonition to take no thought of the morrow, for tomorrow it behooves us to accord thoughtful and prayerful observance to the day that commemorates the pinnacle of achievement in human relations, a masterpiece that must have been as truly inspired as the Law of Moses, the earthly power that has made and preserved us a nation, the Constitution of the United States.

Plan To Discuss Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The state department has announced that the combined policy committee of the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada will meet Tuesday for "exploratory talks" on a long range policy on atomic energy. President Truman announced the creation of the group and plans for exploratory talks on July 28. At that time Mr. Truman gave assurances that congress will be consulted on any new arrangements which may be made for the exchange of scientific and technical information as well as obtaining uranium. The major sources of A-bomb raw materials are in Canada and the Belgian Congo.

WASHINGTON CALLING

turned in the middle of October, he would tell me the "truth." The Pennroad case is, of course, a matter of court record.

This is far from being an isolated case. When Rep. Herman P. Eberharter of Pennsylvania was nominated to be a federal judge, one reason given by the American Bar Association for opposing his confirmation was that he had acted as attorney for a bidder in a WPA contract while serving in Congress.

It is not hard to see how the lines of power and influence are interrelated. Walter is the ranking majority member of the House Judiciary committee. He might in all honesty urged the nomination and confirmation of a federal judge. But if he were to appear in court later before that federal judge representing a client, the most righteous judge in the world would have a hard time convincing the public he was not influenced in favor of the friendly congressman.

It is not a matter of one political party or another. In both the Senate and the House, as will be indicated in a following column, the abuse of influence has become a matter for serious inquiry. (Copyright, 1949, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Court To Decide Steering Issue

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The Dauphin county court was faced with the decision of whether it is legal for a person without a driver's license to steer a towed automobile.

The question was placed before the bench by George S. Peck and Amelia S. Westhafer, both of Annapolis, yesterday in an appeal from conviction after a collision. A passing motorist and an automobile steered by Miss Westhafer, and towed by a truck driven by Beck, collided last April. A justice of the peace convicted her of operating the towed car without a license.

Woman Senator Has Made Few Speeches

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Who said anything about women talking men? Mrs. Margaret Smith, the only woman in the senate, has talked so little in the talkative 81st congress that her words during the first seven months and 11 days took up only two inches of space in the Congressional Record.

Although senate talks runs into miles, it is being measured in inches these days. This is the result of touchiness over whose fault it is—if anyone's—that senators have had to keep to the grindstone instead of enjoying a summer vacation like other folks.

Few Speeches
Mrs. Smith, according to the Congressional Record, made no speeches in January and February. She made her "maiden speech" on March 17. It ran to one inch. The Maine Republican estimates it took her less than a minute.

Some of her 95 male colleagues have held the floor for a whole day at a time.

From March 17 to Aug. 12, Mrs. Smith made six other "speeches". They then took one-ninth of an inch each. One ran to two-ninths of an inch. The longest occupied one-third of an inch.

Figures put into the Record by Senate GOP Leader Wherry, Neb., list one man—Sen. Miller (D) Ida.—as having beaten Mrs. Smith's record for terseness. Miller was listed as having made no floor speeches in the same period.

Lose Effectiveness
Mrs. Smith, a seasoned campaigner and after-dinner speaker of note, said she believes "you lose effectiveness in a long speech". Her five terms in the House strengthened this belief.

Of the issues which currently appear closest to the hearts of weary national lawmakers—how to get surcease from Washington and when will congress quit for the year—Mrs. Smith proposed a possible solution. She said: "We have gotten to the place where government is so big—it is the biggest business in the world—the solution may be year-around sessions of congress".

She said that congressional planning on a yearly basis should be done with a sufficient recess to give members a chance to go home, "get the thinking of the people, get politics out of their systems and get the vacation to which everyone is entitled".

She would not say that had her record of brevity been followed, this session of congress would be history now.

Nine Are Given Prison Terms In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Yugoslavia announced today that nine persons have been given prison terms of from three to 18 years for spying on behalf of the Soviet-controlled communist.

The Belgrade regime made its announcement coincident with the opening in Budapest of the trial of eight men accused of plotting with Marshall Tito and U. S. agents to overthrow the Hungarian government.

The announcement said that a district court at Novi Sad, Yugoslavia, found the six Hungarians and three Yugoslavs guilty of espionage yesterday. They were said to have confessed being employed by the Hungarian intelligence.

Meanwhile, the Belgrade government assailed the Budapest trial as a threat to peace.

Congress Vote Shift Surprise

Election In Johnstown Area
Reverses Trend Of Last Election

G.O.P. SEES HOPE
FOR 1950 SUCCESS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Republicans hope to stage a comeback in 1950 by electing a GOP House of Representatives on the formula used to win Pennsylvania's 26th Congressional District.

The winning formula was this:
1. Continuous attack on the Truman program as creating a "socialized welfare state" in which the individual loses his liberties.
2. Staunch defense of the present federal farm law while opposing the Brannan farm plan.
3. Approval of the Taft-Hartley labor act with Sen. Taft's modifying amendments.
4. Help from the national committee to get Republicans registered and to vote.

Startling Victory
This platform gave navy war vet John P. Saylor (R) a startling victory over Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr. (D). She was the widowed mother of the late army flier
Robert, Jr., who died in a plane crash in his freshman year as a Congressman.

Saylor won by 8,460 votes after a Coffey victory only last November by 12,000 votes. Saylor carried labor districts, despite his defense of the Taft-Hartley act, and won farm districts that went Democratic 10 months ago.

Democratic National Chairman
William M. Boyle contended that the Republican view of the election's importance was "greatly exaggerated." He said that it was simply a case of a traditionally Republican district voting Republican, adding that it could in no sense be construed as a rebuke to the Truman program.

Record Date
The balloting in the Pennsylvania district Tuesday constituted a modern record. The vote totaled 107,358 as against 112,066 in the 1948 Presidential election.

On a percentage basis, it was the largest off-year voting in a Congressional election in modern times. The ballots cast totaled 95.8 percent of the 1948 Presidential vote. The previous largest was a 75.8 percent in the Fourth Ohio district in 1947.

Saylor ran strongly in both industrial and rural districts. He lost Cambria County (Johnstown), an industrial county by 1,986 votes,
although Coffey carried it last November by a 16,000 margin. Saylor carried both Indiana and Armstrong counties, generally agricultural, by the old time GOP plurali-ties.

It was the first GOP victory under the national chairmanship of recently elected George Guy Gabrielson, of New Jersey. Gabrielson sent national Republican organizers into the district to help get Republicans registered and out to vote.

The GOP chairman proposes to use the same tactics in all 1950
Senatorial elections and for all
House seats lost by close margins last November. If the GOP can win the close ones in 1950, Gabrielson says they will elect a Republican house of representatives.

State Liquor Board Re-Shuffles Agents

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—
A drastic shift of liquor board enforcement agents in every district in the state was announced
Thursday by the board.

The shake-up will become effective Friday, according to Francis
C. Brennecke, director of enforcement.

Seventy-one of the board's 188 agents will be transferred to other districts to "insure continued efficiency."

Although he said the reshuffle was "one of a periodic nature," the large number of agents involved indicated a tighter supervision of liquor regulations was in the offing for the state's clubs, taverns and restaurants.

Brennecke said the transfer formula was predicated on moving out agents when they become too well known and bringing in others not known to establishments.

The transfers are temporary at first, he pointed out, but will become permanent October 16. District heads are not affected.

The state's nine districts all will see changes. They are Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Allentown, Altoona, Erie, Punxsutawney, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and Harrisburg districts.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The man of distinction in Germany is not the man with a glass of schnapps in his hand but with matching coat and pants on his frame.

The man who owns a suit is the exception to the rule. Clothing is so expensive, in comparison with the present German earning power, that 19 men out of 20 are lucky to have any pants or coat at all, no matter how ill-mated they may be.

In this one particular, the German man seems little better off than he was in 1946. On the whole, he is still shabby. Clean, but shabby. For probably the first time in the history of this peacock nation, the female is dressier than the male.

Women's clothing is expensive, too. But at least the women can buy yard goods. The German woman has always had a genius for looking dowdy. But even so, her clothes seem newer than those of her husband or her brother.

She still goes without stockings and gloves.

Few Wear Hat

And not one German in a hundred, male or female, wears a hat. Hats, stockings and gloves are not in the final analysis, necessities, and Germans today, by and large, can only afford necessities.

It is true that the stores, cropping up in ruined buildings and sprouting in the rubble, are filled with goods. But at least in Berlin, they are not filled with customers, even though installment buying has been introduced here to encourage customers to put themselves in hock for everything from radios to overcoats.

After the blockade of Berlin was lifted last June, Berliners went on a wild buying spree, I was told by Jan. E. Frankens, a thin, middle-aged German, whose father was once German consul-general in New York City before World War I. His mother, an old lady now living in Bavaria, dreams of returning to her native land, the United States.

Berliners, nervous and wary lest the blockade be reimposed at any moment, bought feverishly of food, clothing, shoes and household goods, which had not been available in many cases since before World War II, according to Frankens.

Invest In Food

As a result of this frantic attempt to store up goods and food against a future shortage, it was officially estimated recently that 60 per cent of Berliners had not paid their rents in the interim.

Scarcely as housing and desperate as Berliners are to hold onto what living accommodations they have, their fears of food and clothing shortages induced them to throw caution to the winds and invest the rent money in other necessities.

That nervous fear of another blockade has largely evaporated, in the opinion of Frankens, who was employed at the Berlin press camp as a guide and interpreter, because of his perfect English, when I was here forty months ago.

Now Frankens, who was once a cotton broker with wide connections in Houston, Texas, is in charge of all German employees at the press camp. By Berlin standards he receives a very good salary, 300 marks per month.

Requires Careful Budgeting

But it requires careful budgeting of that salary to pay the rent, buy food and cloth himself, his wife and their 12-year-old boy, whom he sends to a Jesuit school.

In a city where the specter of unemployment haunts everyone, Frankens is a lucky man, working for Americans who are good pay and not hard taskmasters.

But even so, Frankens has not yet achieved the status of a German man of distinction. He is scrubbed and brushed to the glistening point, but his trousers are a pair of cast-off G. I. pants, and his coat, threadbare but immaculate, is the final remnant of a once good gray suit. It was an even better coat 40 months ago.

At Haus Der Mode, one of the gleaming shops along the Kurfurstendamm, the Fifth Avenue of the western sectors of Berlin, Americans are flabbergasted at the prospect of excellent, tailor-made suits for $85.

Germans like Frankens are flabbergasted, too, but not for the same reason. That $85 represents almost a whole month's salary for a well-paid man like Frankens. For the man who earns the average wage of 150 west marks ($50), or the good wage of 200 marks, or even the fine salary of 400 marks per month, a tailor-made suit at $85 is not so much a bargain as an impossibility.

Attorneys Seek

Return Of Seven Tons Of Material

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Attorneys strove to have seven tons of confiscated punchboards and equipment returned to Charles V. Handmore, of Harrisburg.

City police raided a warehouse in May and confiscated the gaming equipment and arrested the former Olean, N. Y., man. He was convicted of trafficking in lottery June 7.

Attorneys for Handmore yesterday attacked the conviction on grounds it could not be upheld by statute. Handmore asked for a retrial and return of the equipment.

Aid Game Supply

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)

—“Up-to-date” farmers today were credited with a general increase in game in midwestern and eastern United States.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission said informed hunting enthusiasts “feel the reason for this improvement lies in the increase in natural wildlife habitat provided by up-to-date farmers.”

“They realize that wild game populations are determined more by the abundance or lack of food and protection than by other factors,” the commission said.

Modern farmers with their contour and strip farming and other soil conservation practices reap a large share of the credit for the reported improved game supply, according to the commission.

Truman Abandons Idea Of Early Fall Vacation

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—President Truman has given up all idea of an early fall vacation trip.

He had hoped for months to get away from the capital for a couple of weeks during September.

A sea trip was under tentative consideration, perhaps involving a visit to Bermuda or even to more southerly waters.

The president has now put this hope definitely behind him. Such a trip in October is just as unlikely.

Prepared To Remain
It now appears that congress will be in session until the latter part of October at least. As far as the president is concerned, he is prepared to remain at his White House desk, riding herd on his legislative program, until Thanksgiving or Christmas, should congress remain in session that long.

Should congress get through its work by the end of October, the president now plans to go to the navy base at Key West, Fla., for a couple of weeks.

However, the Key West vacation is now tentatively set for around the beginning of the second week in November. Mr. Truman intends making his annual visit to Philadelphia for the Army-Navy football game the latter part of November. The Key West trip would end just before the Army-Navy classic.

Going To Kansas City
Meanwhile, the president is planning to make a two-day trip by plane to Kansas City to attend a huge dinner celebration honoring William M. "Big Bill" Boyle, the new Democratic national party chairman, on September 29.

Boyle is a former police official and county prosecutor of Kansas City. Friends there have arranged a dinner in the city auditorium at which 2,500 seated guests are expected.

If the president does attend the dinner aides are expecting him to make another sizzling political speech similar to his Pittsburgh Labor Day address in which he blamed "special interests" for blocking his program in congress.

Mr. Truman has three or four other brief trips ahead of him in October and November.

Two one or two days trips in October should take him to New York City. He may go there on October 25 to lay the cornerstone of the United Nations building, though this is still tentative.

He also may go into New York state to speak in behalf of former Governor Herbert Lehman's candidacy for the United States senatorial vacancy. Lehman will run against the Republican candidate, Senator John Foster Dulles.

On November 2, the president may fly to St. Paul, Minn., to make a speech there.

Still another one day trip is being considered that would take him to army exercises in the south early next month.

Film At Leesburg Youth Service

Leesburg Youth for Christ will again have an unusually attractive program on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Leesburg Presbyterian church.

A string orchestra will be on the program presenting instrumental selections with special vocal selections to follow. A 16 mm. sound motion picture will be shown by Chuck Gilmore of Grove City. Richard Rice will direct the program.

EARLY CHRISTMAS
CHICAGO.—Burglars, who decided to do their Christmas shopping early, broke into Sam Lerner's Chicago hardware store and removed 47 cartons of Christmas toys and tree ornaments valued at $700.

Folks Of Fame

Ignorant, uncouth, dissolute and almost illiterate, Gregory Rasputin's personality had tremendous influence on the royal house of a great empire and today is blamed for part of its ruin. Born in 1871 of a peasant whose behavior was so outrageous he was called "The Debauchee," he became an alleged mystic who evolved the strange teaching that only through repentance could salvation be won—that is, one should sin so as to be forgiven. Fearing his influence, a group of noblemen invited him to a banquet on December 17, 1916. When poisoned wine failed to affect him, he was stabbed to death.

Out of Senegal in South Africa in the early 1920s came this dark-skinned scrapper, Battling Siki, to launch a meteoric ring career, to win a boxing title and then find death in a New York street gutter. Born September 16, 1897, he began fighting in 1913 and after a string of almost unbroken victories, came to the United States in 1923 after winning the French lightweight title. His career came to a sudden, shocking end when he was killed in a New York street brawl, December 15, 1925. His real name was Louis Fall.

Contrary to popular belief, camels do not carry extra water in the hump, but in stomach pouches.

County Disaster Institute Holds Closing Meeting

Lloyd Morris Gives Summary of Functions and Purposes of Disaster Service

Disaster Institute wound up a very successful two-day program in Lawrence County with a final meeting of public officials and other disaster workers in the council chamber of the City building Thursday night.

Lloyd Morris, field representative of the National Red Cross Disaster Service, gave a summary of the work conducted by the disaster service and explained its functions and its purposes.

He explained that the chief aim of the Red Cross disaster service is to help rehabilitate those persons suffering losses and to help the various government organizations with their work.

The disaster service does not carry on rescue work and other duties at the time of a disaster on their own initiative, but under the direction of the various governmental agencies and in cooperation with them, he explained.

Helps Communities

Mr. Morris went on to show how this service had helped communities in time of floods, quakes and fires and how it gives money, food, shelter, and clothing to those persons affected by the disaster.

During his two day stay in the city, Mr. Morris had individual conferences with the chairman of all of the county's disaster committees, to discuss the hazards that might arise and show how we can be prepared for them.

He complimented the organization that has been started in Lawrence County and feels that upon the completion of its work it will be able to meet any situation which might arise.

Film Shown

A film, "When Disaster Strikes," picturing disasters in communities like our own, was shown at the beginning of the meeting. It stressed the importance of preparedness within a community.

Penny In Fuse Box Burns Wire

Don't put your pennies in a fuse box, put them in your piggy bank, is the admonition of Assistant Fire Chief Norman McFarland. Firemen were called to the home of Emeline Sumney, of 205 Dickson street, because a penny was placed in back of a burned out fuse by an alarm from Box 38, at 5 p. m. Thursday.

Firemen disconnected a faulty wire, and removed the offending penny. The damage was slight.

County Firemen Will Demonstrate Co-Ordination Plan

Several Problems Will Be Worked Out During Fire Prevention Week

Lawrence County firemen are planning to demonstrate how the co-ordination system, which has been worked out by the county departments will function during an emergency, when several demonstrations will be held during Fire Prevention Week, early in October.

A meeting of the county fire chiefs has been called for next Tuesday evening in the Penn Power building, with L. F. Hemenway, chairman of the co-ordination plan.

This was explained in detail at the meeting of the county firemen held in the Andrews building at Mt. Jackson, Wednesday evening, with the North Beaver township department as hosts.

Motion pictures were shown on fire apparatus and fire fighting, and there were reports on various other activities by William Kildoo, chief of the North Beaver department, and Clare Shaner, who reported on the Northwestern Pennsylvania convention.

James Holsapfel, of Shenango, was elected a delegate to the state convention. The next meeting will be held on October 12.

Lunch was served by the North Beaver firemen at the close of the meeting.

German Chancellor Named On Thursday

BONN, Germany, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Dr. Konrad Adenauer, 73-year-old Catholic conservative who opposes a strong central government and socialization, was elected Germany's first chancellor since Adolf Hitler, Thursday.

The Christian Democratic leader obtained the office, however, only by a one-vote margin, 202 out of the 402-member parliamentary house. This was due to his clash not only with the Socialists, but because of intra-party bickering among the Christian Democratic groups.

Adenauer also was immediately attacked by German Jews who accused him of a lack of awareness of alleged anti-Semitism in post-war Germany.

Christopher Columbus received payment amounting to $320 for discovering America.

Bullet Removes His Appendix

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Sept. 16.—(INS)—A factory worker received congratulations today for successfully removing his own appendix—with a .22 caliber pistol.

The 39-year-old worker, Wayne Bacon of Utica, Mich., shot out his appendix when the gun accidentally discharged while he was cleaning it.

A surgeon at Mt. Clemens General hospital termed the appendectomy "more perfect than could have been done with a scalpel".

British Warship Up The Hudson River For First Time

NEWBURGH, N. Y.—HMS Frigate Snipe sails by Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh on the first voyage by a British warship up the Hudson river in the history of the United States. Heavy chains and forts protected Washington's encampment at Newburgh and lifeline of the rebelling colonies during Revolutionary war but the Snipe had little trouble Wednesday. Thousands of spectators witnessed good will visit of the little warship.

A good way to use up a little leftover rice is to put it into an omelet—about half a cup to a two-egg puffy omelet. Serve with hot biscuits and currant jelly, or peach preserves.

Recommends Parole Of William Pelley, 'Silver Shirt' Head

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Federal Security Administrator Oscar B. Ewing Thursday recommended the parole of William Dudley Pelley, convicted for sedition as head of the "Silver Shirts" in 1942.

Ewing, who helped prosecute Pelley as a special assistant to the attorney general, declared that he has "some misgivings" about the recommendation because of Pelley's "unrepentant attitude." But he added:

"I would . . . recommend Pelley's parole for entirely different reasons. Personally, I always felt that Pelley should be kept in jail as long as the war continued and then paroled under conditions which will prevent his carrying on any harmful activities.

"Judge (Robert C.) Baltz 'I sentenced Pelley to jail for 15 years (at Indianapolis), having definitely in mind that he would be eligible for parole at the end of five years, at which time it was hoped that the war would be ended." Ewing's appeal was contained in a letter to the Justice department and published today as part of a new parole motion by Pelley's counsel.

Westminster To Open Tuesday

Freshmen Are Registering Today—Total Enrollment To Be About Same As Last Year

Freshmen students at Westminster College registered this afternoon in preparation for the opening of school Tuesday. Upperclassmen return to the campus Monday.

New students arrived at Westminster College and during the week have been taking aptitude tests and going through other orientation processes.

Tonight all freshmen students will formally meet the college staff at a reception at Ferguson Hall on the campus. Tomorrow night freshmen will be entertained at a party in the college gymnasium.

More Co-eds
Graduate students will complete their registration Saturday morning, and pre-registered seniors who plan to graduate in 1950 will also complete registration.

Pre-registration figures indicate that total enrollment this fall will run approximately the same as last year. A larger proportion of women students will be on the campus this year for the first time since the G. I. educational program got underway following the end of the war.

Fall Palette Inspires Seasons New Fashions

Fashion designers have borrowed a leaf, or rather several leaves from Nature's Fall Edition and have come up with the most exciting and colorful collection of fashions of many a season.

This was in evidence Thursday evening when Martha Shrine held their fashion show at the Cathedral, with a large number of New Castle's fashion-conscious women in attendance.

Jerry Pander, Richard Bradford and Carol Young provided the evening's entertainment program. Richard and Carol presented pleasing duets and vocal solos.

"Miniature models" from Mrs. Earl Dart's kindergarten class tried their best to steal the show with their spontaneous and charming antics. They were Darlene Jokinen, Kathy Beadel, Douglas Hotchkiss, Bobby Young, Mary Jane Goodwin, Emmie Allen and David Mooney.

Well, ladies, to get back on the subject of the new fall fashions. The fall wardrobe is reminiscent of the twenties with its oval décolletages, head hugging hats and flounces. The lines are similar to the twenties but in a more refined and flattering manner. Versatility and functional garments present the fall fashion picture. The fly-away overskirt, stand up collars, interesting skirt detail, buttons, pockets and molded bodices are high fashions of the fall silhouette.

All these dramatic features were present in the costumes modeled last night with the grace of professional models by the following: Mrs. Dorothy Patton, Mrs. Irwin Rosen, Mrs. Sam Gilmore, Delores Licopantis, Mrs. William Melder, Mickey Crawford, Dortha Cook, Mary Sentak, Mrs. Blanche Casburn, Jo Maletta and Betty Gray.

Mrs. Simon Skole cleverly narrated each costume in detail.

Presented in the show last night were lovely "after five" numbers, with black being the leading color here. Striped taffeta and black velvet were a popular trim. Tissue faille, tweeds and sheer wools are among the leading fabrics.

Most of the men will be glad to hear that the skirts are getting shorter. Fourteen inches from the floor seems to be a popular length for fall. The evening gowns feature full bouffant skirts and deep décolleté necklines. One particularly stunning number modeled last night was a powder blue nylon evening gown. The rich tones of autumn were brought out last night in the various costumes. Rustling taffeta is another leading fabric for fall. Lace will give a feminine touch to many of the dressier costumes. The casual dress is coming back again as is the casual coat. Fitted coats, too, are high fashion, and gored coats with fur collars.

In the suit picture, the fashion points to bloused backs, narrow skirts, jutting pockets and belts. The three-quarter coat is popular. The panel effect and hip accent are very much in evidence.

Climaxing last night's successful and well planned fashion show was the serving of refreshments. Mrs. Earl Dart and Mrs. David Harlan, general chairladies for the event, can be credited with the evening's success. Also Mrs. Edna R. Friedman, who contributed the costumes.

Tampa, Fla., is known as the "cigar capital" of the world. The Cuban section of this city is full of cigar shops and factories, where more than 1,500,000 Havana cigars are made each day.

Court House

Primary Votes
Cost 30c Each

Controller Shows 66 Per Cent Of Registered Vote
Cast Tuesday

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

When you cast your ballot last Tuesday you spent a wee fraction over 30 cents of tax money, according to County Controller Andrew M. Dodds.

Mr. Dodds has completed the cost breakdown for the primary and it comes to just that price. According to Mr. Dodds, there were 29,057 votes cast. These figures are from the totals shown on the return sheets of the election board. The News reported over 28,000 cast but this figure was taken from adding the figures of the highest vote cast for any office. While this gives a rough idea it is not as accurate as the actual count.

For some reason many people vote for one or two candidates and not the balance. This means that the total votes shown for any set of candidates does not indicate the total vote cast. Mr. Dodds has the official records and his figures are assumed to be correct.

As for the 30 cents per vote data here is how it is arrived at. The total cost of the primary election was $8746.90, divided as follows: Printing ballots, $1417.54; cost in New Castle, including officials pay, house rent, booth erection, booth storage and constable fees, $3944.90; Ellwood City, $840; other boroughs in county, $552.50; townships, $340.00.

Seek Funds For Alaska Housing
For Military Men

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Defense Secretary Johnson demanded Thursday that congress immediately appropriate $138,000,000 to improve military housing in Alaska.

Johnson said Alaskan defense housing is "sub-standard" and "hardly homes". He described the situation as "the most serious problem we face in that area," and continued:

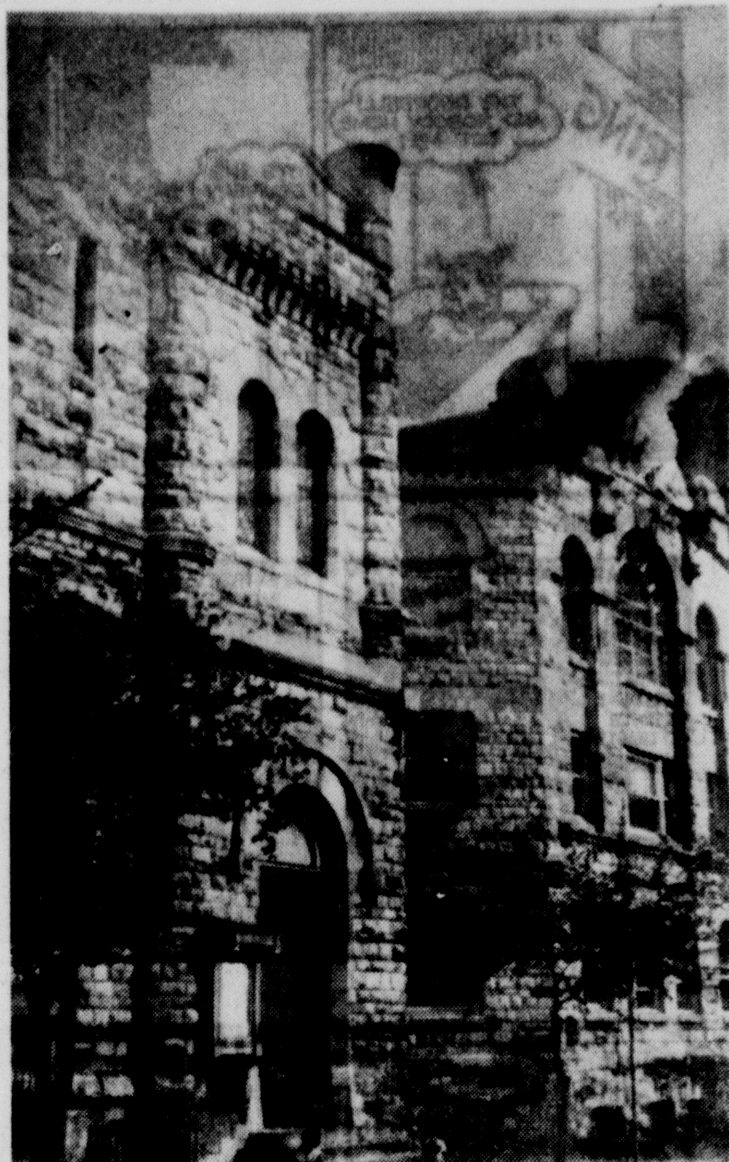

"We must get action on this even if it becomes necessary to treat the construction needs for Alaska as a separate item by the congress."

The secretary's remarks were made in a statement prepared for release at a press conference in Los Angeles.

A bill to authorize $634,000,000 for military public works, including housing and including about $138,000,000 for Alaska, is now pending in congress, but action on it at this session is considered doubtful.

Johnson said he has asked congressional leaders to treat the Alaska amount as a separate item if necessary to get it through.

Temple University Fire Damaged

PHILADELPHIA, PENNA.—Temple University was endangered when fire of undetermined origin broke out in the left above the fourth story. Fire was discovered about 4:45 p. m. in the vacant loft just above chemical laboratories that occupy the fourth floor. Damage from fire was estimated at not less than $65,000.

Too Many Cooks
Spoil The Broth,
It Is Discovered

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Philadelphians had proof that too many cooks will spoil the broth.

The cooks—two internationally famous chefs—got themselves embroiled in a stew over the proper way to prepare bouillabaisse, which is a French fish soup, and turned a radio program into a rhubarb, Thursday.

The headlines, in what started out to be a chatty program, were Louis Turco, president of the Boston Epicurean club, who was trained in France, and Andrew Brossfield, of South Africa, chef of the Trenton country club.

In Philadelphia for the 47th annual International Stewards' and Caterers' convention, they first began simmering over the pronunciation of bouillabaisse.

Mrs. Mary Biddle, the moderator, tactfully lowered the flame by asking how the soup was prepared, but this only heaved the discussion from the pot into the fire.

Turco explained that water should be used in the mixture.

When Brossfield interrupted to term this "nonsense," pointing out the best bouillabaisse is made with wine or cognac, Turco seized him by the lapels and began to shake him.

They had to be quieted by convention director Albert Backhaus. Maybe it was temperament. Maybe it was done on purpose not to give away culinary secrets. They never did give the recipe.

Low Temperatures
And Lack Of Rain
Cause Slow Growth

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Subnormal temperatures and lack of sufficient rain today were blamed for slowing growth of farm crops during the past week.

Frosts occurred in mountain localities on September 10 with the lowest temperature reported at Phillipsburg with 25 degrees, but damage was slight, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

Dry soils in southeastern and central counties slowed preparations for planting of winter grains but early fields of winter barley have a good start, the report showed. Condition of pastures is the poorest in several years, it added.

Silo filling is well advanced in most sections and cutting of corn for grain has started. Most husking corn has been well, but some filled poorly due to Japanese beetle damage.

Early plantings of the late potato crop are being lifted in the south, but acreage yields for all stands are averaging much below last year. Most seedling tobacco in the Lancaster area has been housed. Weather conditions "favored" a third cutting of alfalfa.

The cooler weather added much to the color of the large apple crop. The peach harvest in the southeast is near completion and is past peak in the northwest. Late sweet corn is good quality and plentiful. Tomato harvesting for canneries is past its peak. Late celery, cabbage and spinach need more rain for best development, according to the survey.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—(INS)—If anyone in the audience ever should want to get Burl Ives' goat, merely remark to the gent that the dog is man's best friend.

Ives, champion of folk songs and goats, declared with deep sympathy oozing from every pore of his 290-pound person:

"The goat is the animal kingdom's most misunderstood chor-date. The goat—not the dog or horse—is man's best friend."

Then the ballad singer, actor, novel-writer, concert and night-club entertainer, poet, song-writer and television performer, added:

"An animal's proximity to man is in direct ratio to the parallel vibrations of us homo-sapiens. Man's vibrations are attuned to a goat's vibrations more closely than to any other mammal."

"Goat's milk more closely approximates human milk than that of other animals—and we should shower the milk of human kindness on the misunderstood kids."

Goats, that is, not bobby-soxers.

Ives, who will leave Hollywood in October for a 62-city concert tour, has such a penchant for goats that he wears a constant goatie.

He also owns a goat haven at Van Nuys, Calif., upon which tread one of the purest stocks of Nubian nannies extant.

Rabid On Goat's Milk

And he is so rabid on his goat's milk point of view that he daily flies fresh goat's milk from his six-months-old son is being raised.

He was particularly peeved today over the fact that the citizens of Roaylton, Vermont, recently refused to allow Mrs. Arthur La-near to return to that community after a 3,500-mile jaunt with a prairie schooner full of goats.

"I'll take care of her on my goat ranch," declared Ives, almost reaching a "burling point" in polite indignation. "I have invited Mrs. Lamear and her guaranteed goats to come to my place at Van Nuys to stay—as long as she wishes."

Burl allowed as what this country needs more than a good five-cent cigar are some good lectures on goat appreciation.

And, he said, as he went back to do some scenes astride steeds with Audie Murphy in Universal-International's "Sierra," he intends personally to take up the challenge.

"I may," he announced, "be the first to inform a nation of goat-ignorant people as to the true virtues of the goat family!"

SCHOOLS GET FUNDS

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 16.—(INS)—Rennselaer Polytechnic Institute, of Troy, N. Y., and Wells College, of Aurora, N. Y., today were designated beneficiaries of part of a $1,527,000 estate left by the late Charles S. Weston, Scranton banker and philanthropist.

An adjudication handed down by Orphans Court Judge James Brady directed $913,500 be turned over to Rennselaer and $455,752 to Wells. The funds are to be used as the institutions see fit as memorials to Mr. and Mrs. Weston and their graduating classes.

Weston graduated from Rennselaer in 1882 and his wife finished at Wells in 1886. Both died last year.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Arthur Steiner, the Viennese raconteur, tells of the time his good friend, Franz Lehar, the composer of "The Merry Widow," was down on his luck. Poor but proud, Lehar sent an underling to pawn his watch, and warned him, "Don't take less than a hundred schillings. And when you get it, fold it in an envelope and bring it to me at the Bristol bar. If I'm with somebody, just tell me, 'This comes from the British ambassador with his compliments.'"

The underling found Lehar at the Bristol some time later and reported mournfully, "The British ambassador sends you his compliments—but says he can't give you more than 50 schillings on your watch."

How many definitions can you give for the word "wildcat"? The American College Dictionary offers the following:

A lynx; a quick-tempered person; a single locomotive with its tender operating alone in shifting cars; an exploratory oil or gas well; a reckless or unsound business enterprise; an unsafe company or stock; an independent oil prospector.

English is an easy language—after you've learned it!

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

MILK AND HEALTH
Boys like to argue and debate. They like to discuss the problem of whether the chicken or the egg came first.

They might talk about whether the milk or the baby came first. It does not make much difference to us which came first. We are glad to have both now. Milk is good for babies and old people, too. It provides protein and minerals. Babies and old people sometimes do not have teeth. Milk and cheese do not require much tooth work.

When baby is born there is a good set of teeth under the gums all ready to show up pretty soon. Mother must provide the minerals to make these teeth before baby is born. Milk is our best bet for this purpose.

Old Bossy Cow supplies us with good clean milk. It is up to us to see that it is kept clean.

Central Church Fund Workers Have Meeting

A meeting of the V-I-C-T-O-R-Y Team personnel in the "Victory for Christ" $50,000 Building Fund Campaign of Central Presbyterian church was held in the First Presbyterian church last evening.

General Chairman John F. Love, said: The $50,000 from this campaign added to the insurance and the sale of the old church site, plus a small amount we may have to borrow, will enable us to build.

John F. Love and Mrs. Sara Sankey McCune, Co-Chairmen, presided. Dr. R. M. Patterson opened the meeting with prayer.

After introductory remarks by the chairman, Mrs. McCune, informational and instructional advice was given by the campaign financial advisor for the fourth coming period of intensive solicitation among the membership of the church from September 26 to October 10.

The team captains are: A. Lowry Wilson, William R. Stoner, Charles T. Shaw, Arthur Pierce, Robert Stillwagon, Arthur M. Bratschie, and Emerson D. McGuire.

The chief purpose of the meeting was to select and assign the names of the congregational membership to the respective members of each team for calling during the active campaign.

The meeting was concluded with prayer by the pastor.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, September 20, and on Tuesday, September 27, the auxiliary and families will have a tween dinner starting at 5:30.

Mrs. Adaline Navarra, drill captain, announced a practice for Sunday, October 9, at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Henrietta Davis had as her aides Mrs. Olive Key, Mrs. Sue Ross on the entertainment committee and Mesdames Mae Alben, Mary Guinagh, Clara Grimes, Nettie Stamos and Cassie Morrow serving a delicious lunch.

The above ladies with Mesdames Belle Kennedy, Catherine Dukes, Elizabeth Evans, Rose Doone and Mamie Ryan will have charge of the rest of the September activities.

A lovely set of frosted crystal donated for a door prize was won by Mrs. Clara Rice.

The auxiliary will send a donation to the polo drive through the local post office.

During the meeting the members were called to attention and the charter was draped in black in memory of a departed member, Mrs. Betty Frienstein.

Mrs. Cecelia Jackson gave a final report for the month of August.

Babson Presents Ideas On English Situation

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 16.—The American-English conference now going on has tremendous possibilities for good. Surely it is a one-way street and cannot do any harm. It can affect every reader of this column.

England's Argument For Help
Frankly, the Englishmen want us to give them more dollars. The financial interests here in New York look upon Bevin, Attlee and Cripps as pure Socialists. These New York bankers say "Why should we Americans use good U. S. dollars to make Socialism a success?" Hence, they are trying to get the English government to promise to give up Socialism in return for U. S. dollars—or at least not push it further.

But here is the answer of Bevin, Attlee and Cripps: "At the present time the world is divided into two great and powerful groups—the democracies which stand for free enterprise, and the Russians who stand for Communism. Unless some middle ground of compromise can be developed, both groups are headed for a World War III which will destroy civilization. We believe England is trying to work out such a compromise—a safe bridge between America and Russia. It is worth billions of dollars to the United States to help us do this." This is England's argument and I'm inclined to believe it will appeal to President Truman.

Questions Being Discussed
Many questions are being discussed. Chief of these is the devaluation of the pound which would make it easier for the English to sell their goods without increasing the efficiency of their labor and machinery. This would be only postponing the final day of reckoning because England would not now need to debase her currency if her production, management and labor would wake up and become efficient.

Among other things are: Fixing a new and guaranteed rate of money exchange for all western nations, the powers of the World Bank, President Truman's Point 4, our American tariff, the so-called block balances, the continuation of lend-lease, etc. All these, however, are mere temporary palliatives to relieve the patient England of pain. They are like giving aspirin and an electric pad to someone who needs a surgical operation.

Goal To Seek
My prayer and hope is that the conference will get down to fundamentals—namely of getting the democracies into an honest and workable economic union. We are already fast approaching a mutual defense union, and this is a step in the right direction. This, however, is much like repairing and painting an old house which really needs new timbers and a strong foundation. Let each nation continue to run its internal affairs, as it wishes, but insist that we get together on economic matters. These cannot successfully be divided by drawing lines on maps.

Russia has no trade barriers between its different countries. In order for the democracies to hold their own, they must reduce tariff barriers, have an international dollar and perhaps a single postage stamp for trading among themselves. In effect, this would mean extending England's present preferential trading system (which now applies only to the members of the British Commonwealth) to other democracies such as the U. S., France, Holland, Belgium, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and perhaps Greece and Turkey.

10 or 20 More Years of Prosperity
Such a program might temporarily hurt a few U. S. manufacturers whom the government could for a while subsidize. Labor might fight it for fear of unemployment; but its ultimate results could mean a higher standard of living and better security for every reader of this column, the people of the United States as well as the people of foreign lands. The United States cannot long continue to "live the life of Riley" while the rest of the world is starving. The sooner we realize this the better for all concerned including ourselves.

I am sure that President Truman is anxious to put over such a program. If the Republicans would heartily join therein, employment and profits would again increase and the entire business situation would definitely improve. I can

Lions Club Of Volant Plans Special Events

Lion Elmer Brown was the speaker of the evening when the Volant Lions met at the Methodist church Tuesday. Brown reported on his attendance at the National Lions' convention which was held in New York this summer. This report combined with other business of the club to make a very interesting meeting.

Brown told of the great numbers of delegates at the convention representing each country in the world where Lionism is established. One especially impressive ceremony he told of was the massing of the flags of those nations. Each country was represented by one of the lovelies of its land, who appeared carrying the nation's flag as its national anthem was played by the convention bands. One outstanding speaker at the convention was Eugene Brickner, past national president of the club.

Plans were announced for the next night September 27, to be a gala event as all district clubs are invited, it being set for district governor's banquet. The local club will act as hosts to the members of the Volant Mothers' club at a dinner to be held early in October. This will be the fifth anniversary of the founding of the club in Volant. Paul Shaw was named chairman of the committee for arrangements.

Twenty-one members and two guests were present at the dinner and meeting of this week, according to President Ellis Hillard.

Mars Stops Union High, 26-6

Injuries Hamper Play Of Scotland Laners Thursday

Glen Hedricks Scores Sole Touchdown For Union In Final Period Of Game

A crippled Union High School team ran into a tough Mars eleven last night at Mars and came out on the wrong end of a 26-to-6 score.

The two teams battled it out in the first period with neither getting the advantage, but in the second period Mars broke loose for big gains around the ends when they bunched their linemen at end and tackle.

Before the Union defenses could get set to stop the end plays Mars had scored two touchdowns and left the field at half time with a 14-0 lead.

Union kicked off to Mars in the second half and on the first play from scrimmage Mars scored on a pass play that covered 55 yards. From then on the teams battled it out on even terms, but the damage had been done.

Pass Leads to Score
Union scored its sole touchdown in the final period when a pass from Hedrick to McPheeters took the ball from the 35 to the 8-yard line. On the next play Hedrick took it over on an off-tackle play. Union was without the services of fullback Joe Hritz and halfback Len McClanahan, due to injuries, for most of the game. Presnar was forced into action at fullback despite a knee injury and was forced to give way to third stringer Jimmy Young in the second half.

With the exception of the second period the local boys played a good game and rolled up a total of 228 yards from scrimmage.

Stymie Boosts Turf Earnings

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Stymie, the world's richest race horse, is even richer today, although his latest earnings wouldn't deserve half a look down his long brown nose.

He won $400 for finishing third in a prep race at Aqueduct yesterday.

Total: $911,735.

NEW WILMINGTON AND VOLANT PLAY BENEFIT

New Wilmington and Volant will play a benefit game for Al Dubrasky, New Wilmington catcher, at New Wilmington tonight.

Dubrasky was injured in the first play-off game against Pulaski and funds are being raised to pay his medical expenses.

Greater Valley Softball League Seeks Entrants

Plans Being Made To Expand League To 24 Teams For 1950 Season

Managers of all softball teams in the New Castle area wanting to enter their teams in the Greater Valley Softball League for the 1950 season are urged to make application at once so that they can be notified of the first organization meeting of the league.

The Greater Valley Softball league operated this year with six teams from the valley showing some very keen competition. Teams in the league last year were DeCarbo Bombers, of New Castle, St. Mary's team, of Industry; Aliquippa All Stars, Laney Am-Stars, Ambbridge A. C. and the Rojo's of Ambbridge.

Plans are now being set up to expand the league to 24 teams and to divide it into three or four sections, depending on the locations and classes of teams entering.

Teams entering will be eligible for district, state and national play-offs as set up by the National Amateur Softball Association.

A schedule of 50 to 60 games will be arranged for league play. As it requires many months to group the teams together and set plans for the operation of the league it is necessary for any teams wanting in to send in their application now.

Application forms may be obtained by writing to Vic Conrad, Fair Oaks, Pa.

Dick Haddad, tackle from New Castle, broke three toes during drills and will be lost to Geneva for the season. Haddad played three years of football for New Castle high from which he was graduated in 1942.

Pirates Mourn Death Of Pitcher Bonham

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16.—(INS)—Ernie "Tiny" Bonham, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher who died yesterday of complications following an appendectomy, will go home today to Sacramento, Cal., for burial probably Saturday.

The Pirate hurler died yesterday after taking a turn for the worse as he appeared to be recovering from the operation performed a week ago.

The death of the big, 215-pound, six-foot-two-inch righthander came as a blow to his Pirate teammates.

When Ralph Kiner and pitcher Rip Sewell visited him in the hospital Wednesday night, Bonham assured them he was going to lick "this thing."

Manager Bill Meyer recalled Ernie telling him:

"They're hitting me all over the field, Bill, and I can't get any of them out."

Bonham made his reputation with the New York Yankees in the early 40's. He joined the Pirates in 1946.

The Bucs will wear mourning bands in their game with Brooklyn tonight. A minute of silence will be observed before the game.

Kiner Near Pace Set By Babe Ruth

By TROY GORDON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16.—Ralph Kiner isn't thinking about home run No. 60 or 61 these days.

He realizes he has to get 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, and 59 first.

Sixty, of course, is the major league record for one season, set by the one-and-only Babe Ruth 22 years ago. Before he reaches the late Babe's mark, the 26-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate slugger will have to pass the National league top of 56, set by Hack Wilson in 1930.

But Kiner's first goal is a personal one. He wants to better his own high of 51, set in his sophomore year—1947.

He is in good position to surpass all three.

At Physical Peak

The Californian today is one home behind the pace set by Ruth in his record year. Kiner blasted his 49th home run Wednesday in the 138th game of the season, while Ruth hit No. 50 in game No. 138 in 1927. The Pirates did not play yesterday.

However, Ralph is at his peak physically and mentally, and he's hitting the ball better now than at any time this season.

In his last 14 games, Kiner has had 12 home runs. There are 16 playing dates remaining and he needs an even dozen to become the new "King of Swat."

Kiner prefers not to make any predictions.

"How can I tell how many home runs I'll hit," he asked, "I'm after one every time I go to the plate."

FOR ONIONS

It's a good idea to keep a separate board for slicing and chopping onions so that the onion flavor does not affect other foods.

Wolverines Open Home Grid Season With Erie Tech

Those Ellwood City fans who didn't travel to Erie last week for the Erie Strong Vincent game will get their first look at the 1949 edition of the Wolverines when they meet Erie Tech tonight in their home opener.

Both teams are looking for their first victory of the season, having dropped their opening games last week-end. Erie Tech lost to New Castle, 19-0, and Ellwood City dropped to Erie Strong Vincent, 7-6.

Neither team has many veterans of last year's game back, which went to Ellwood City by a 14-6 score. Erie Tech has Dinunzio, a halfback, and DiFuccia, a tackle, back. Ellwood City has only Frank Wolfe, a guard, Tony DeCaria, halfback, and Joe Giovannini, fullback, back from last year's team.

Good Passing Attack

Despite their loss to New Castle last weekend, Erie Tech showed several fine prospects and a very effective passing attack. Some observers feel that if they had continued their passing attack when they got near the New Castle goal line, instead of switching to the ground, the story of that game may have been different.

With one game already under their belts the Wolverines should be a better team than the one that pushed Erie Strong Vincent around last week, only to lose by one point.

Bessemer-Indies Game Rained Out

Rain and wet grounds forced postponement of last night's scheduled game between the Lawrence Indies and Bessemer in the county baseball championship series.

The two teams will play at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Flaherty field in the fourth game of the best out of seven series. Bessemer now holds at 2-to-1 edge.

The dragging chains used on gasoline trucks cut out static electricity induced by friction.

SHORT SPORTS

How much Michigan State Coach Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn will miss his tiny graduate halfback star, George (Little Dynamite) Guerre, can be judged from his assertion that "pound for pound, he was the best football player I've ever coached."

Wally Triplett, former Penn State halfback, launched his professional grid career with the Detroit Lions by running 61 yards for a touchdown the first time he carried the ball in an exhibition game.

May Be Twin City Association Final

Prospects of a twin city final in the American Association baseball playoffs looked good today. The Minneapolis Millers won their second straight game over Indianapolis last night, defeating the Indians 6 to 5 in their own back yard.

St. Paul squared its playoff against Milwaukee with a 12 to 2 victory.

'25 ELLWOOD GAME

The story of the Ellwood City-New Castle high school football game of November 14, 1925 pops back into the news once more as the '25 Ellwood eleven celebrates its 25th anniversary.

You old-timers know the story well and we youngsters have heard it many times. Just to refresh your memories we'll go back 25 years and tell it as it was supposed to have happened.

That year both Ellwood City and New Castle had powerful undefeated teams going into the waning weeks of the season. Ellwood had a heavy, powerful team and New Castle had a light, fast eleven.

It was the game to end all games for district football fans and interest and rivalry hit a new peak.

It had rained nearly all week up until the day before the game and the Ellwood City field was a pool of mud and water when the teams took the field.

Ellwood Wins 14-0
The big Ellwood team that game, 14-0 with the help of their added weight in the sloppy field, and went on to win the WPIAL crown. It was the 25th anniversary of this championship that was celebrated last weekend at the Erie Strong Vincent game in Erie.

At this celebration the members of the '25 Ellwood team got quite a kick of joking about that New Castle game. One ardent New Castle fan called our attention to an article from the Ellwood City Ledger that might be of interest to local sports fans. It reads:

"The Ledger photographers were taking a picture of this 1925 team before they left for Erie Saturday afternoon. Some was in the crowd who was watching the ceremony yelled out 'Why don't you get the guys who are given credit for winning the game in the picture?'"

"Just then Art Mowry and Shorty McDevitt came out with a fire hose and posed in front of the team."

They say they were only kidding, but we can't help but wonder just where the Ellwood fire company fits in the story.

New Castle Faces Untested Carrick High Eleven Tonight

Scarlet Canes Meet Heavy Visiting Line

A completely unknown quantity except for size invades Taggart Stadium to battle the New Castle High Red Hurricane football team tonight. Game time is 8:15.

Carrick High, Pittsburgh, is the immediate question mark on the destiny of this year's edition of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh. Briede said yesterday, "We don't know what they have but we'll be ready". The first and second team would probably agree to the latter part of the statement heartily. The boys put in three days of tough scrimmage this week and every day showed signs of improvement.

Some Disappointment

In last week's 19 to 0 victory over Erie Tech, the New Castle line showed signs of possessing real power and the backs used gaping holes to the best advantage. However, to many observers, who were looking for another powerhouse, similar to the 1948 edition that swamped Monongahela in a playoff game, there was a certain amount of disappointment.

The coaches must have shared some of the feeling and decided to iron out some of the difficulties this week. Line blocking and secondary defenses were important items on this week's practice schedule. Yesterday's offensive timing and loosening up drill comprised most of the short practice session. The squad practiced in the afternoon instead of under the lights because of the threatening weather.

Carrick will be playing its first game of the 1949 season. Last year the visitors won the Section II championship among Pittsburgh schools but lost to Westinghouse in a playoff for the city crown. The announced weights of the Pittsburgh's forward wall equals that of the strong New Castle line. The locals will have a decided edge in backfield size.

Several Injuries

Several severe bruises may hamper the chances of the local eleven.

In the first team backfield Ralph Gagliardo has been drilling at quarterback in place of Bob White who bruised a knee Tuesday night and has not participated in practice since. Ray Latko, ground-gaining fullback, is also on Bill Klee's list of regular patients for heat treatment. The big junior left practice early yesterday to take advantage of "Doc" Klee's "Sure-cure" methods. A third back, sophomore John Roussos, has been nursing a charley horse but will be in the starting lineup.

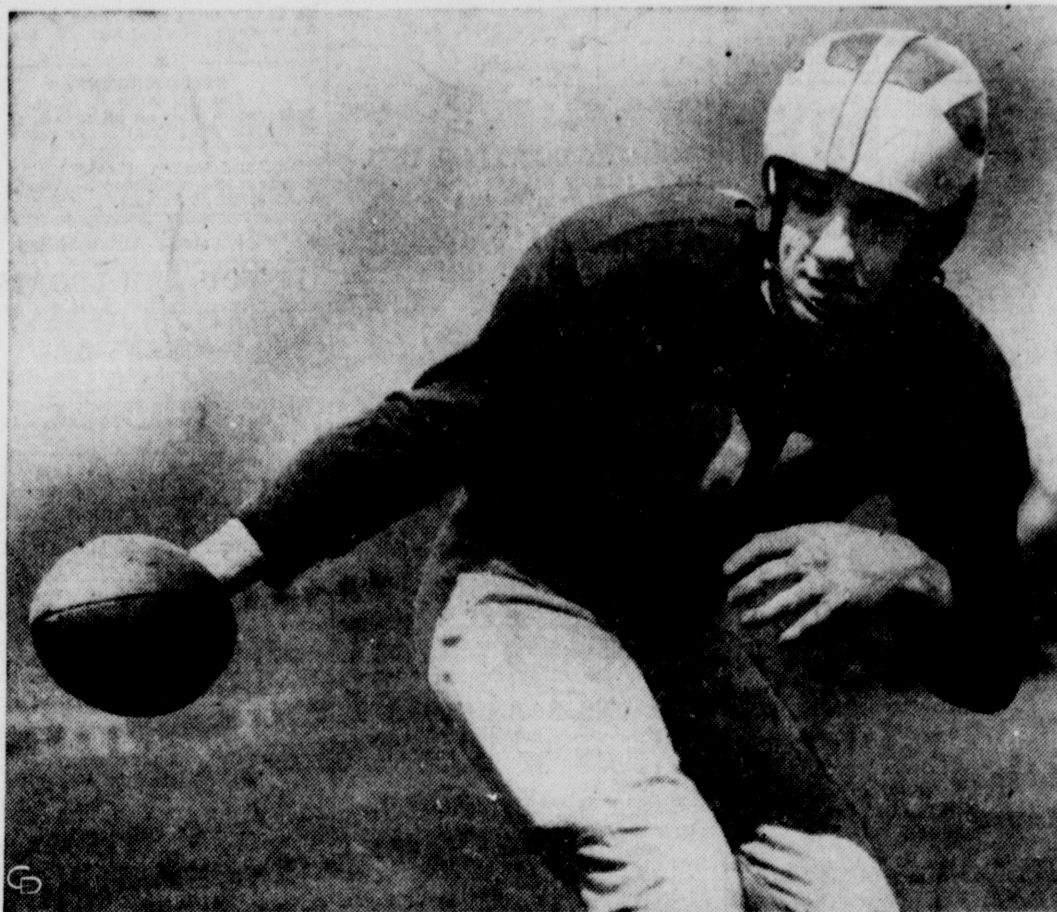

Up front, second string guard, Dick Burr has been slow in recovering from last Friday's bruises but will be ready for duty if needed. Ticket sales slowed down somewhat yesterday as a result of the rain but the tempo increased with the clearing skies this morning and a large crowd of over 12,000 is expected to see the local favorites in their second home test.

HURRICANE BREEZES

Coach Bridenbaugh dismissed the varsity early yesterday and watched the junior varsity in a touch scrimmage. Eight members of George Biner's 1948 JV team are in the first 22 men this season. Most practice spectators this week remarked about the increase in the backfield speed.

In seasons of tumult and discord, bad men have most power; mental and moral excellence requires peace and quietness.—Tacitus.

FULLBACK TOM PETERSON SPARKPLUGS WOLVERINES

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN'S Tom Peterson is handy with the pigskin as he warms up to show how he intends to aid the mighty Wolverines to romp through their third undefeated season in a row. The 22-year-old Racine, Wis., fullback is one of several reasons for the team's high status in the gridiron world, as the Wolverines prepare to prove.

Ohio State Looms As Big Ten Champ

By BOB CUBBEDGE

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 16.—You can take Coach Wes Fesler's word for it—Ohio State will field a good football team this year.

But Fesler is prone to call for caution when the Bucks' over-enthusiastic supporters begin casting around the word "great" even before the start of the season.

The way Fesler sees it "we'll be able to hold our own against any opponent on any given Saturday." But he adds:

"The same could be said of Northwestern, Minnesota, Michigan and Purdue... they're all going to be tough."

Seven Regulars

Twenty-seven lettermen, including seven regulars from last year's surprising squad, turned out for the start of fall practice. Nevertheless, even with three lettermen at some spots, Fesler has his problems.

His biggest job will be finding replacements for guards Dave Templeton and Ray DiPietro and fullback Joe Whistler. Somehow, also, he must fill the gap at right-half.

Vic Janowicz, one of scholastic football's most publicized backs two years ago, is the prize of an outstanding sophomore group and eventually may prove the answer to a backfield coach's dreams.

Right now, however, he rates second behind speedy, powerful Fred "Curly" Morrison in the fight to fill Whistler's shoes at fullback. Yearlings Ray Hamilton and Walt Klevay, both fast and elusive, are slated to share right half duties for which they are well qualified.

Savie At Quarter

Pandel Savie, one of the Western Conference's leading players, once again will be mauling the team from his quarterback post. In 1948 Savie completed 36 of 69 tosses for 486 yards and five touchdowns. In this, his senior year, he is expected to handle virtually all offensive quarterbacking assignments.

Jim Clark and Gerry Krall, both veteran backs, will run from left half as they did last year.

Center Jack Lininger may prove OSU's all-America candidate for 1949.

Both starting tackles of last year's club, Capt. Jack Wilson and Dick O'Hanlon, are back for more, as is end Jimmy Haux.

Schmittler Returns

Sherwin "Sonny" Gandee, who returned to his end position again this year, is out of play for one season with a chipped vertebrae. A surprise move was made by Dick Schmittler, stellar OSU cage star. The six-foot-five, 195-pounder who once traded his football gear for a basketball uniform, signed on with the Bucks for the grid season.

He's getting special tutoring aimed at his replacing Gandee.

Quick but inexperienced John Blitz, a reformed fullback, and 190-pound George Tonne are being counted on to fill the shoes of the departed Templeton and DiPietro.

The Bucks open Sept. 24 against Missouri.

Yankee Blunders Give Indians Win

By CHARLES EINHORN

(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The man who said "I know my enemies, but heaven protect me from my friends" must have been Casey Stengel.

His friends, the New York Yankees, whom he manages, blew a lulu yesterday to those momentary enemies, the Cleveland Indians. It may have been the one game not to lose, if one can be that academic about a pennant race.

With their lead reduced to 2½ games over the Boston Red Sox in the American league flag fight, the Yanks now must play Detroit today and tomorrow, and Cleveland Sunday and Monday.

The Red Sox, meanwhile, are presented with a lustrous opportunity to make time. Their immediate opponents, in order, are the St. Louis Browns and the Chicago White Sox, two tasty specialties of the house.

National League Close

In the National League, where the race is even closer, all indications are that the business will not be settled until the front-flying Cardinals and second-place Brooklyn Dodgers—a game and a half apart—meet in that three-game bedlam at St. Louis next week. And even then, they may not do much deciding. It could go to a playoff. Neither club has been blowing its shots of late.

Neither had the New York Yankees, up until yesterday, when all things went wrong, practically simultaneously. There were five errors, two of them by the most reputable and dependable of shortstops, Phil Rizzuto. Not all season long and if they hadn't, they would have won the ball game. The Indians took it 10 to 6, and of their ten runs, five were unearned.

Lemon Gets 20th

Bob Lemon won credit for his 20th victory of the season in pitching for Cleveland, but he required aid from Al Benton in the eighth inning after Cliff Mages and Yogi Berra bopped a pair of two-run homers in the Yankee cause.

It was Larry Doby's 22nd home run of the campaign which broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth and put Cleveland in front to stay. The Indians got five runs in the eighth, their biggest inning, to capsize Allie Reynolds. The defeat was Reynolds' fifth.

Now, for their next four games, the Yanks must oppose some of the best pitching in all baseball. Freddie Hutchinson goes for the Tigers against them today, with a 15-and-5 won and lost record. Stengel has chosen Tommy Byrne to oppose him.

Yanks Face Aces
After that, it'll be another Detroit pitching specialist—Art Houtteman, maybe, or Virgil Trucks. Then Cleveland and Bobby Feller, with thunder in his eye.

For the Red Sox, Mel Parnell shoots for his 23rd victory today in the game with the Browns.

St. Louis goes with Alpha Braze (14-7) against the Boston Braves in a night game at St. Louis, and Brooklyn trundles out ace Don Newcombe (15-6) against Ralph Kiner and the Pirates at Pittsburgh, also at night.

Contributions In Polio Drive Lagging Here

Local Residents Are Asked To Send In Their Contributions Promptly

NO SOLICITATION IS BEING MADE

Contributions in the emergency polio campaign which is being conducted to bolster depleted treasury's as a result of the biggest epidemic which has ever struck the country, are lagging here. County Chairman William R. Hanna, of the Lawrence County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis stated today.

The need is great. Mr. Hanna pointed out, as $100,000 is now being spent daily to combat the ravages of this disease, which has already stricken 20,000 persons throughout the nation. An additional 20,000 cases is expected to be reported although it is believed the peak of the epidemic has been reached, and is now tapering off.

No solicitation is being made of individuals, contributions being entirely voluntary, and local residents are asked to send in their check as soon as convenient. Simply address it to Polio, Care Postmaster, and the check may be made out that way, Mr. Hanna stated.

New Castle and Lawrence county have been most fortunate in this epidemic, only a few scattered cases having been reported here, while only a few miles away in Butler county, the district has been hard hit.

M-Sgt. C. P. Walsh Receives Transfer

Has Been On Recruiting Duty At Local Army Office For Nearly Four Years

Master Sergeant Charles P. Walsh, in charge of the Army and Air Corps recruiting office in the Post Office building, has received notice from the War Department of his transfer to the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Sergeant Walsh came to New Castle about four years ago and has served continually as recruiter since that time. While in the city he lived at 1008 Liberty street.

Friday, September 16, will be his last day of regular duty at the New Castle office. After a short furlough, he will leave with his wife and son for Germany, where he will serve a three-year tour of duty.

A veteran of over three years of service in the Army, Walsh served in Panama during the war. He will be replaced at the local office by Master Sergeant Harry O. Falls, who has been on recruiting duty in the city for nearly a year.

Corporal Pete Colla has returned to New Castle, after serving in Ellwood City, to fill the vacancy left by Walsh's departure.

Wild birds do not sing more than eight or ten weeks in the year.
